

2017 CORE PROGRAM UPDATE – EL SALVADOR

The pediatric cardiac program in El Salvador has shown tremendous progress over the past seven years. The number of children treated annually continues to increase, as does the complexity of cases operated and recovered by the Salvadoran team.

As a result of the mentorship of world-class medical teams, the Salvadoran healthcare professionals have increased their skill level and are now able, in most cases, to treat children with heart disease independent of a visiting team.

In 2017, the capacity of the Salvadoran pediatric cardiac program will increase dramatically with the addition of a new dedicated intensive care unit.
